FD Leads in 34 States; Electoral Vote 407-124

By the Associated Press

President Roosevelt's fourth term victory, looming larger by the hour, held the prospect today of surpassing his third term triumph. It threatened to engulf Michigan, one of the 10 Republican states of 1940. And Ohio, after hours in the Dewey-Bricker column, showed signs of also changing over. At the same time, the Democrats tightened their grip on Congress with 51 certain Senate seats and gains in the House.

These late counts grew from a tremendous outpouring of voters taking part in the nation's first wartime election since 1864.

Even without Michigan (19 electoral votes) and Ohio (25) the President's electoral vote margin over Dewey stood at 407 to 124 on the basis of leads in 34 states. Dewey leads in 14 states.

Democrats Hold Control Of House and Senate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Democratic Party bored ahead today toward an electoral triumph at the Capitol as well as at the White House.

Smashing the Republican prediction that the Administration would lose control of both houses of Congress, the Democrats made certain of a Senate majority with votes to spare, and snatched 16 seats from the Republicans in the House while losing only two of their own.

With 12 Senate races still to be decided, Democrats counted 51 certain Senate seats compared with 58 they hold in the present session. The Republicans tallied up 32, counting holdovers, contrasted with the 37 they now occupy. The Senate's lone minority party member was not up for election this time.

In the House, totals showed 167 Democrats elected, 104 Republicans.

Eleven incumbent Democratic Senators already had been re-elected: George of Georgia, Overton, Louisiana; Hill, Alabama; Pepper, Florida; Majority Leader Barkley, Kentucky; Thomas, Oklahoma; Tydings, Maryland; Hayden, Arizona; Thomas, Utah; Wagner, New York, and Lucas, Illinois.

New Democratic Senators-elect included J. William Fulbright of Arkansas; Olin D. Johnston, South Carolina; Clyde R. Hoey, North Carolina, and Brien McMahon, Connecticut, who upset Republican Sen. John Danaher. The Republicans unseated Sen.

Guy M. Gillette of Iowa, who fell to that State's Governor, Bourke B. Hickenlooper. Other Republicans winning Senate places were Aiken, Vermont; Reed, Kansas; Morse and Cordon, Oregon; Gurney, South Dakota; Millikin, Colorado, and Wiley, Wisconsin.

Rep. Hamilton Fish, New York Republican who fought President Roosevelt's prewar policy, was knocked out by Augustus W. Bennett.

Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut, attractive blonde thorn in the Administration's side, slipped through to victory despite a frantic Democratic attempt to unseat her.

The Seventy-Ninth Congress thus will keep its date with destiny next January predominantly Democratic. The President's intimates in the Senate can route important international commitments, perhaps even the final peace treaty, through the legislative machinery.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas scooted in without opposition, and Rep. Ramspeck of Georgia, the Democratic whip, won handily. Sen. Gerald Nye (R.) of North Dakota, another on Truman's isolationist list, was trailing badly in a three-way race led by John Moses, Democrat. Truman had pointed the same finger at Reed of Kansas, who went in; Taft of Ohio, who had a commanding lead early today.

Elections at a Glance

By the Associated Press

Tabulation of returns from yesterday's wartime election showed these results:

PRESIDENTIAL—Roosevelt led in 34 states with 407 electoral votes (141 more than a majority); Dewey was in front in 14 with 124.

POPULAR VOTE (94,660 of 130,819 voting units)—Roosevelt 19,167,723, Dewey 16,790,268.

SENATE—Democrats elected 15, including Barkley, Wagner, Tydings, McMahon, Hayden, Thomas (Okla.), Thomas (Utah), and Lucas outside the solid South. Brien McMahon, former assistant attorney general, upset Republican Sen. John Danaher in Connecticut. Republicans had elected seven, including two in Oregon and one each in Kansas, South Dakota, Vermont, Iowa and Colorado.

HOUSE—Democrats elected 182 including 16 seats now held by Republicans. Republicans elected 99 including one seat now held by a Democrat. Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R.) of Connecticut was re-elected. Rep. Hamilton Fish (R.) of New York was defeated, after 12 terms.

GOVERNORS—Democrats elected 10 (Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Idaho, Missouri, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia); led in six other states. Republicans elected seven (Connecticut, Iowa, Kansas, Maine on Sept. 11, Nebraska, South Dakota and Vermont); were ahead in eight others.

At one stage Dewey had a lead of more than 133,000 in the contest for Michigan's 19 electoral votes. But Wayne County (Detroit) cut into this steadily and by mid-morning it had dropped to about 50,000. The Republican candidate's Ohio lead was less than 6000.

To the million who voted with him in the Republicans' losing fight under the battlecry of "It's time for a change," went Dewey's thanks and his expressed confidence all will join in the hope that providence will guide Mr. Roosevelt and the nation to peace.

The victory vote with which the democracy's majority stamped approval on Mr. Roosevelt's conduct of the war thus far, sweeping as it was, still was less than the one he gained in his third term bid four years ago.

Then Wendell L. Willkie carried 10 states with 82 electoral votes. Dewey led in these, plus Ohio, Oregon, Wisconsin and Wyoming. It was a late switchover by New Jersey which sent Mr. Roosevelt's electoral figure to 407.

DEMOCRATS GAIN IN HOUSE—Michigan, a Willkie state in 1940, was declared meanwhile by the Detroit News to be headed also toward the Roosevelt column. The paper said that despite Dewey's long lead there, the change to Roosevelt was effected by ballots yet to be counted from Wayne (Detroit) County.

Along with the presidential victory, Democrats made sharp inroads in the Republican House membership, which has been so close to a majority lately that the administration ran into trouble on bill after bill. Further, as most had expected, the Democrats clinched their majority in the Senate, which must pass on peace and other treaties.

Nervous before the foreign nations displayed so much interest in an American election—and indications at Washington were that a Roosevelt-Stalin-Churchill meeting would come at an early date.

London newspapers bannered the election result, and editorialists hailed it. The Berlin radio commented sourly that the Dewey ote indicated Roosevelt's foreign policy "is worrying wide circles of the American people."

Roosevelt's margin over his Republican opponent this time was such as to erase the pre-election uncertainty over the service vote. This had arisen from the fact that 11 states count these ballots late.

Not until 3:15 a. m. did Governor Dewey concede that he had been added to the list of those who have challenged "The Champ" and lost.

In a mighty outpouring of votes, cast in an orderly manner by a people who prided themselves on

What Winners And Losers Say

In a "let's get on with the war" attitude, President Roosevelt and his opponent Gov. Thomas E. Dewey exchanged messages of well wishes today.

The President was at Hyde Park, resting. Gov. Dewey was in seclusion for the morning in New York.

Here's what the winners and the vanquished said:

GOVERNOR DEWEY—"I extend to President Roosevelt my hearty congratulations and my earnest hope that his next term will see speedy victory in the war, the establishment of lasting peace, and the restoration of tranquility among our people."

"I am confident that all Americans will join me in a devout hope that in the difficult years ahead Providence will guide and protect the President of the United States."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT—"I thank you (Gov. Dewey) for your statement which I heard over the air."

VICE PRESIDENT-ELECT TRUMAN—"It was a grand statement by Gov. Dewey and it shows American sportsmanship in this political campaign."

GOV. BRICKER—"I join in the sentiment expressed by Gov. Dewey."

VICE PRESIDENT WALLACE—"Roosevelt until 1948 means a country confident, moving with full steam ahead."

ROBERT E. HANNEGAN, Democratic National Chairman—"The overwhelming victory of President Roosevelt means national unity on a program of international collaboration for permanent peace."

HERBERT BROWNELL, J.R., Republican National Chairman—"Dewey and Bricker made a 'courageous, fighting campaign' that 'strengthened the unified America' in its war effort."

SIDNEY HILLMAN, CIA-PAC chairman—"The American people have reaffirmed the faith and confidence they repose in a great American and an outstanding leader."

BROADCAST FROM AMERICAN—Gov.-elect Maurice J. Carey Has 5000 Lead Over Herter in Congress Battle

With less than one-half of the 10th Congressional district precincts reported today, William A. Carey (D.) of Boston, was leading Cong. Christian A. Herter, Back Bay Republican, by almost 5000 votes.

With the exception of this tight battle the other Massachusetts representatives seeking re-election in Congress seemed assured of victory on the basis of incomplete returns.

The 10th district fight showed Carey polling 37,415 votes to 32,587 for Herter in 70 of 162 precincts.

Cong. John W. McCormack, Democratic floor leader, was an easy victor in the 12th district, burying Henry J. Allen (R) by a three-to-one vote. Republican Floor Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., also held a strong lead over Edmond P. Talbot in the 14th District, despite CIO Political Action Committee hopes to unseat Martin.

Cong. James M. Curley piled up a comfortable lead over Lester W. Bowen, his Somerville Republican opponent. Dist. Atty. John W. Haseltine (R) of Greenfield defeated Sen. James W. McAndrew of Adams in the First District.

Bradford Wins State 2d Place

While Massachusetts was endorsing the fourth term and turning the Governor's chair over to Mayor Tobin, it cut sharply across the Democratic trend and split the top of the State ticket, landing the GOP's Robert F. Bradford in the lieutenant governor's office.

As a result, the next state administration will have a Democratic governor and a Republican lieutenant governor for the first time since 1935. Then, Gov. Joseph B. Ely, in his second term, had Gaspar G. Bacon, Republican, for a next-in-command. In 1932, the picture was similar, with Ely governor and William S. Youngman, lieutenant governor.

Although returns were still to be received from several hundred precincts, Bradford was running comfortably ahead of the Democratic candidate, John D. Carr, Somerville assessor, Carr, a political unknown from a state-wide standpoint, nevertheless picked up a heavy vote in the wash of straight ticket ballots that went to Roosevelt.

Bradford, Middlesex County district attorney since 1938, emerged as a new "favorite son," one of those happy children of politics who survive trends fatal to others of their party.

There were only two other exceptions but neither was a surprise, for both had proved before that, although Republicans they could pull a measure of Democratic votes in any election. Thus Gov. Saltonstall won his U. S. Senate seat by an ovation vote over Mayor John H. Corcoran of Cambridge.

So, too, did the perennial Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook, in office 24 years, win re-election over his Democratic opponent, Mrs. Margaret M. O'Riordan.

Bradford's only previous demonstration of unusual vote-pulling qualities was in his re-election, in 1942, when Middlesex County gave him the biggest plurality ever accorded any candidate for any office there.

But that was in his own back yard. But this time he obviously won a good measure of the statewide approbation that clings to Saltonstall and Cook whichever way the party trend may be heading.

Former Lt. Gov. Francis E. Kelly was running about 40,000 votes ahead of his Republican foe, Clarence A. Barnes, in the contest for attorney general. There appeared little possibility that returns from the remaining precincts could bring Barnes space. Too many of the still due reports would come from Democratic strongholds.

Mayor Tobin's plurality was mounting as late returns filtered in. With less than 300 precincts unreported he was 125,000 votes ahead.

John E. Hurley, Democrat, seeking his first political office of importance, was leading Fred J. Burrell, Republican, by a pace

Gov. Elect Tobin Has Big Plans

Gov.-elect Maurice J. Tobin today promised Massachusetts an administration on a par with his campaign—honest and aboveboard, thorough and far-reaching, and studded with fresh and invigorating plans.

The 43-year-old Boston mayor came down the stretch to the finish line gaining at every stride and not even breathing hard—up till daybreak for the dawdling returns, then off to the installation of Archbishop Cushing.

Until that ceremonial, he said, everything would wait. But he had some very definite plans of action thereafter. One of his first acts, he indicated, would be to call a conference of labor, business and industrial leaders and Massachusetts newspaper editors to discuss certain concrete plans he has in mind. This idea may develop into a series of conferences to be held before his inauguration.

His plans include a broadening of the overall state structure for the rehabilitation of returning war veterans, the laying out of a state-wide system of airports, development of the Bay State's commercial fisheries and the co-ordination of many individual and group efforts toward establishment and nation-wide recognition of Massachusetts as a year-round playground.

Tobin's career in politics started when he was 25. After serving two terms in the State Legislature, and two terms on the Boston school committee, he became one of the youngest mayors in the history of his home city at the age of 36. Before he completed his first term, the Legislature passed a special bill rescinding a state law which forbade the re-election of a mayor in Boston. He won re-election, and last July was nominated for governor over a seasoned state-wide campaigner, State Treasurer Francis X. Hurley. Tobin married the former Helen Noonan of Boston in 1932. They have three children.

Beano Beaten Nearly 2 to 1

The statewide referendum which would legalize beano was soundly defeated by almost a 2 to 1 vote, returns indicated today.

Opponents had claimed that wording of the referendum was confused and felt it might prevail. A YES vote, according to the wording, meant rejection, while a NO vote would have brought back the game.

In 62 towns the banning vote was YES: 32,079, and NO: 16,424. In 200 out of 335 Boston precincts the vote was YES: 51,347; NO: 27,458.

3d Gains Mile On Metz Front

By HENRY B. JAMESON

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP)—U. S. Third Army troops charged in a dawn offensive today at points along a 25-mile front between Metz and Nancy, seized four lightly-contested villages and scored advances up to a mile.

To the north, doughboys of the First Army still battled strongly-reinforced Germans in the town of Vossenaek, 13 miles southeast of Aachen.

Bloody and as yet inconclusive fighting continued throughout the Hurtgen forest area. Two Nazi counterattacks near Schmidt were broken.

The Third Army "substantially improved" its line between Nancy and Metz, a front dispatch said. Midway between the two French cities, the Americans crossed the Seille river. Resistance ranged from light to moderate.

In Holland, the Germans retreating to the north bank of the Maas had wrecked every river bridge between the sea and Heel, north of Hertogenbosch.

"Fighting still is in progress in the village of Vossenaek," the communique said. Latest field reports said Americans held one-half the village, Germans the other half.

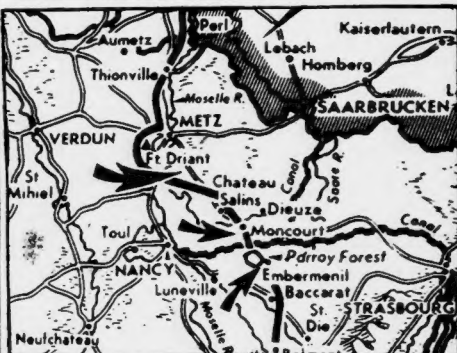

In the region immediately west of Schmidt, from which the doughboys were thrown back Friday, the Americans improved their positions yesterday and mopped up pockets of resistance. Fighter-bombers attacked enemy concentrations there.

The Germans now have been driven from all except one small pocket south of the Maas in Holland.

"Allied forces hold the entire south shore of the Hollandsch Diep and the Maas river with the exception of an area south and east of the destroyed Moerdijk bridges where a small, isolated force of the enemy is still holding out," the communique said.

On Walcheren island, north of the Schelde estuary approach to Antwerp, the Germans have now been restricted to an area northwest of Domburg on the north shore. But in that region they still had some gun positions in operation.

Little action occurred yesterday on the American Third and Seventh Army fronts in France as a cold rain blanketed the area.

WESTERN FRONT—Smashing forward on a 25-mile front between Metz and Nancy, doughboys of Gen. Patton's Third Army today reported capture of four towns in an advance of a mile during which Yanks crossed the Seille river midway between the two cities.

Jap Fanatics Slow Yanks' Leyte Drive

By C. YATES McDANIEL

MACARTHUR HEADQUARTERS, PHILIPPINES, Nov. 8 (AP)—One of the bitterest battles of the Leyte campaign rocked the road to Ormoc today as the U. S. 24th Division and units of four Japanese divisions battled in ridges below Pinamopan.

Savagely fighting Japanese slowed down the American advance and, for the first time, shelled Yank positions along Carigara bay with heavy artillery.

One American battalion took an important ridge summit yesterday, in the slow, dangerous campaign to drive the Japanese from favorable defensive terrain flanking the road.

Another American battalion punched along the highway. The Japanese, fighting with more skill than the original Leyte defenders, cut behind the column and straddled its communications.

The well-equipped Yank battalion nevertheless continued its advance, meeting stiff resistance around the town of Limon, four miles south of Pinamopan.

The Japanese dragged artillery to the ridges they still hold to begin the shelling of Carigara bay positions. The barrage thus far was described as "harassing," but division officers said Japanese reinforcements were using their artillery cleverly.

The fight began when probing American advance parties were cut off in a series of Japanese counterattacks by the 16th Division—Bataan veterans and original defenders of Leyte—and reinforcements from the First, 30th and 102nd divisions.

American planes dive bombed Palompon on the extreme west coast, the only port from which Japanese units north of Ormoc could hope to escape if they were cut off by the southern prong of the American pincers, now moving north from the Cabatuan area.

Nazis Get News

LONDON, Nov. 8 (INS)—The German home radio today broadcast the news President Roosevelt had been re-elected. The Nazi announcer made no comment.

Japs' Philippines Loss 1000 Planes, 71 Ships

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 8 (AP)—Hundreds of carrier planes from the Third Fleet, in two knockout blows at Manila, increased to 1000 the total Japanese aircraft they have destroyed and to 71 the warships they have helped sink or damage since Gen. MacArthur invaded the Philippines.

In his latest communique Adm. Nimitz said Saturday-Sunday blows by Hellcats, Helldivers and Avengers:

Destroyed 440 Nipponese planes.

Sank two warships (a sub chaser, a destroyer).

Probably sank a heavy cruiser.

Damaged eight other warships (a light cruiser, two destroyer escorts, five destroyers).

Sank three cargo ships and an oil tanker. Damaged 14 cargo ships and a trawler.

Blasted Nichols, Clark, Nielson, Lima, Tarlac, Bamban and Malabacat airfields, bases which must be kept neutralized to protect Yank invaders of Leyte.

Wiped out three oil storage areas, destroyed a railway engine and five tank cars and inflicted heavy damage on ground installations.

Nimitz' Tuesday communique added 249 planes to the 191 he had reported destroyed Saturday. It added the destroyer to the warships sunk; two destroyers and two destroyer-escorts to the warships damaged.

"Figures on our own losses are not yet available," the communique said.

Emphasizing air domination of the attackers over Manila, the raiders accounted for 327 of the 440 planes on the ground.

Most of the 72 enemy warships sunk or damaged since MacArthur's landings were blasted in the second battle of the Philippines sea.

During that battle, 423 enemy planes were erased, most of them by carrier planes. Other enemy aircraft adding up to a total of at least 1000 were bagged in carrier-based attacks dating back to Oct. 20.

The Saturday-Sunday blows constituted the first sizable carrier thrusts at Manila since flat-top planes went over that area Oct. 28-29, destroying 9 enemy aircraft, probably sinking a heavy cruiser and damaging two others.

Nazis' New V-2 Used on London

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The German high command announced today London had been under bombardment by a new secret weapon, V-2, "for some weeks."

The Berlin broadcast said the German communique said "a new weapon, much more effective," than the V-1 flying bomb has been launched against the British capital.

The V-2 has been described in dispatches from Stockholm as a missile resembling a "flying telephone pole" with a range of more than 200 miles. The weapon, according to Stockholm reports, is said to have possibilities of being developed into a rocket bomb capable of spanning the Atlantic.

"HARA-KIRI" BOUND—Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, Japan's victorious general at Singapore and Corregidor, has been transferred from Malaya to serve as commander-in-chief of Jap forces in the Philippines, according to Tokyo radio.

Big 3 Parley Seen Assured

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt's re-election makes it virtually certain that he will hold an early meeting with Stalin and Churchill.

Turning on key questions of postwar co-operation, the conference will largely shape the course of Mr. Roosevelt's fourth-term foreign policy.

The proposed second session of the Big Three, a year after their first gathering at Teheran, becomes possible now because the election outcome has restored to diplomacy the stability lost during hectic campaign weeks. Then foreign governments did not know whether they would have to reckon with Mr. Roosevelt or Gov. Dewey in the weeks ahead.

2 in Stern Gang Admit Killing Lord Moyne

CAIRO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Two Jews today confessed assassination of Lord Moyne, British resident minister in the Middle East, it was announced. They were quoted as saying they were members of the "Stern Gang" of Palestine and came to Egypt to kill the diplomat, shot down Monday.

"We are members of the Fighters for Freedom of Israel organization and what we have done was done on the instructions of this organization," they were quoted.

Reds Mass for Silesia Thrust

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The promise of explosive action hung today over the long eastern front, where for the past two days Moscow has announced there have been no essential changes.

Torrential rains hindered Red army troops jabbing at the outskirts of Budapest. The Russians were moving infantrymen into the front lines beside their tanks, while artillery plumped shells into the city.

Berlin said the Russians were preparing for a new large scale attack toward Tarnow in southwest Poland from the bridgehead on the west side of the Vistula river. The Nazis declared the Russians have been withdrawing mechanized formations from the East Beskids area of the Polish-Czechoslovakia border to reinforce assault divisions and the early beginning of a big battle is assumed.

Ultimate aim of an offensive in this direction would be a penetration of German Silesia.

Soviet troops in northeastern Hungary have pushed two new bridgeheads across the Tisza river 75 and 125 miles above Budapest, the Germans admitted.

A Soviet broadcast said a reconnaissance in force was carried out in East Prussia and that 600 Germans were killed in East Prussia and eastern Czechoslovakia.

Abp. Cushing Enthroned

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Standing before the high altar of Holy Cross Cathedral and beneath the lofty chancel arch where hangs the betasseled red hat of his illustrious predecessor, the late William Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing was elevated today to the dignity of spiritual leader of more than 1,000,000 Catholics of the Archdiocese of Boston.

The medieval splendor of the rites blended richly with the Cathedral's Gothic background as the Boston-born son of an immigrant blacksmith received the obeisance of dignitaries of the Roman Catholic hierarchy, pledged himself humbly to a program of spirituality and besought the prayers of his flock to bless his reign as head of the Metropolitan See of Boston.

"It is my task to rekindle and spread the flame of spirituality," he told the throng which filled the vast cathedral, "for only spirituality can work the miracle which will raise our self-slain world from its bloody grave."

POPE'S ENVOY PRESIDES

"Pray for me, please, not that I may attain the heights of loftiness or the pinnacles of visible success, but that I may help others attain that spirituality which which the Archbishop ordinarily would have been invested as the symbol of his rank, was dispensed with because of war conditions.

NOTABLE CROWD THERE

Lowering, cloudy skies and chill winds failed to dampen the enthusiasm of hundreds, who thronged the streets for a glimpse of the colorful liturgical procession which preceded the ceremonies inside the Cathedral.

They sought also a glimpse of the dignitaries of city, state and nation, the representatives of the armed forces and the prominent laymen and religious leaders of the archdiocese who filled the vast Cathedral for the rites.

Among them were Governor Saltonstall, Mayor Tobin, Sons, David I. Walsh and Sinclair Weeks; Congs. John W. McCormack and Edith Nourse Rogers; Chief Justice P. Higgins of Superior Court; Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue Thomas H. Buckley; Postmaster Patrick J. Connolly; John F. Fitzgerald; Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles, and many others.

All had filed into the church before the liturgical procession that signified the start of the ceremony of installation, which elevated the archbishop to the position of sixth spiritual leader of Boston's archdiocese and made him the youngest prelate in the world to hold that high rank in the Church.

MESSAGE FROM POPE

The Papal blessing, conveyed to the Archbishop in a message from Giovanni Cardinal Montini, Vatican City under-secretary of state, was conferred on him and the archdiocese.

"With Apostolic affection he imparts to Your Excellency," the message read, "to all the faithful present for your installation, and to the entire archdiocese and province of Boston his most special blessing as a pledge of the Divine assistance he prays that you will have in the guidance of the souls entrusted to your care."

As the Cathedral was filled rapidly, the liturgical procession formed at the rectory and marched slowly up Union Park st. and Washington st. to the west door of the Cathedral.

Hundreds of reverent onlookers, unable to gain admittance to the thronged church, lined the streets of the neighborhood to glimpse the procession and listen to a broadcast of the ceremonies by the Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S. J.

IN BRILLIANT PROCESSION

The brilliant procession, its ranks studded with the varicolored robes of heads of religious orders and the rich hues of the ecclesiastical garments of bishops and archbishops, was led by a

First in line were the abbots of religious orders, who are vested

Following them were the bishops, titular and residential, including coadjutor and auxiliary bishops and the suffragan bishops.

They were in turn followed by the archbishops, including Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York, who was Archbishop Cushing's predecessor as auxiliary bishop of Boston.

Archbishop Cushing and his retinue were near the end of the procession in which each prelate, according to custom, was attended by two chaplains.

Archbishops in the procession included the Most Rev. Francis J. Beckman, Dubuque, Ia.; Most Rev. Edwin F. Byrne, Santa Fe, N. M.; Most Rev. Moses E. Kiley, Milwaukee; Most Rev. Edward Mooney, Detroit; Most Rev. John G. Murray, St. Paul, Minn.; Most Rev. John T. McNicholas, O. P., Cincinnati, and Most Rev. Alexandre Vachon, Ottawa, Ont.

READS PAPAL DECREE

As the procession entered the Cathedral, it was greeted ceremonially by the rector and staff, who advanced down the aisle to meet it. Here the archbishop's dignity was temporarily overshadowed by that of the apostolic delegate, the ranking prelate.

After members of the procession were seated, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jeremiah S. Minihan, chancellor and notary, read the decree of appointment and installation from the apostolic delegation, which was followed by the chanting of two liturgical prayers.

The first was sung by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael J. Spilane, D. D., pastor of St. Mary of the Assumption Church, Brookline, as dean of the archdiocesan consultors, and the second by Archbishop Cushing after he left his seat on the epistle side to ascend

Police on Guard

Fifty patrolmen and five sergeants were assigned by Supt. Edward Fallon today to handle the huge throngs that gathered early in the area about the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, eager for a glimpse of Archbishop-elect Richard J. Cushing.

Another detail of officers will handle traffic in the area about the Copley Plaza Hotel, where a banquet will be given by the Archbishop following his elevation.

Clare Luce Winner Despite Dem Sweep

NEW HAVEN, Ct. Nov. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt, polling the highest vote ever given by Connecticut to a presidential nominee—434,841 to 391,349 for Dewey—won the state's eight electoral votes in Tuesday's elections which saw Democrats wrest from Republican control a United States senatorship and four of six House seats in Congress.

Only Republicans to survive were Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin, re-elected for a third term, and two House incumbents, Rep. Clare Boothe Luce, one of Mr. Roosevelt's sharpest critics, and Rep. Joseph E. Talbot.

Chief of the Republican office holders to be unseated was Sen. John A. Danaher, assailed during the campaign by Vice President-elect Truman and other Democratic leaders as an "isolationist," who lost to Brian McMahon.

Democrats produced a woman victor for Congress in the second district in the person of Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse, professor at Connecticut College and one-time Secretary of the State.

Mrs. Luce, opposed by the Political Action Committee defeated her Democratic rival, Miss Margaret E. Connors, by 2303. Two years ago Mrs. Luce carried her district by 6838 in achieving the honor of being the first woman ever to represent Connecticut in Congress.

The complete unofficial vote gave Luce 102,070, Connors 99,767.

IT'S U-MAN-I-MOUS

A nine letter word that deftly describes Filene's Basement separate bargain store for men. Have you ever seen one of the big crowds that scurry in for men's sweaters at $2—or men's hats at $9.95—men's overcoats at $74.90—or the crowds that have made those announcements of men's clothing at $11 world famous? If you have you very well know that man's a bargain hunter despite the fact, somehow, the laurels for that title fall to the women—there are some champion bargain hunters in the crowds—those who never miss a Filene's Basement advertised bargain—those who buy all their outfits here. When a store sells about 2,000,000 bargains annually to men—it's pretty unanimous that the male of the species is getting what he wants, when he wants it at the price he wants to pay—do you make it U-MAN-I-mous?

Democrats in Rhode Island Clean Sweep

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 8.—Heavily Democratic districts of Rhode Island swept the entire ticket into office today after earlier returns had kept the state on the doubtful list for several hours.

With all but one of the state's 261 voting districts counted, President Roosevelt had amassed 138,814 votes against 114,108 for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to run up a plurality of 44,706.

Gov. J. Howard McGrath likewise swept back into office for a third term as he piled up a total of 163,531 votes against a tally of 109,187 for his Republican opponent, Norman D. MacLeod.

The state's two Democratic Congressmen scored easy victories with their Republican opponents conceding victory before midnight and pledging their full cooperation to the winners.

Cong. Aime J. Forand collected 79,848 ballots while his opponent, Charles A. Curran, was given 50,247. In the second district, Cong. John E. Fogarty tallied 78,803 votes against 59,438 tallied by State Sen. Charles T. Algren.

More than 25,000 absentee ballots of servicemen remain to be counted but election officials explained they probably would have no bearing on the outcome of the election because of the large pluralities compiled by the victors. Counting of the service ballots does not start until Dec. 5.

Nebraska Bans Prohibition

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Nebraska voters rejected, 2 to 1, a proposal to impose state-wide prohibition.

Constitutional amendments to outlaw the closed shop were running behind in California and Florida, but a similar proposal was leading in a fairly close vote in Arkansas.

California voters also apparently defeated overwhelmingly a proposal to pay $60 monthly pensions to citizens over 66 through a 3 to 5 per cent sales tax.

Everybody Happy

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Nov. 8 (INS)—The St. Petersburg Times, staunch Roosevelt supporter, wrote its Wednesday morning headline at 10 p. m. Tuesday. It said, "Oh What a Beautiful Morning."

FD, Tobey Win New Hampshire

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 8 (INS)—President Roosevelt was getting a sure grip on normally Republican New Hampshire today on the basis of returns from 281 of the State's 295 towns and wards.

The vote was Roosevelt, 103,699; Dewey, 95,736.

Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R.) appeared to have won re-election, as in 280 towns and wards he was given 95,867 votes to 91,719 for Joseph Betley (D.).

Charles M. Dale, Republican mayor of Portsmouth, was beyond challenge in the race for Governor. The same number of districts gave him 100,689 to 88,181 for Col. James J. Powers (D.), a medical officer on duty in the Army.

F. E. Normandin (D.) and Rep. Chester Merrow (R.) were in a neck and neck fight for Congressman from the First District, as 119 towns and wards gave Merrow 47,980, Normandin 46,720.

In the Second District 160 towns and wards gave Sherman Adams (R.) 50,388 in the Congressional contest to 41,000 for Harry Carlson (D.).

tion as mayor of Boston in the special polling for choice of a successor to Governor-elect Tobin next spring.

"I shall be a candidate for mayor at the special election next spring," the three times mayor and former governor of the Commonwealth said today. "I am confident of victory at that time and in the election for a full four-year term in the following November."

Cong. Curley's announcement is expected to be followed shortly by a similar statement from School Committeeman Clement A. Norton of Hyde Park.

It is expected Tobin will resign the office of Mayor when he assumes the governorship and a special election to fill his unexpired term to Dec. 31, 1945, will be held next March.

Election to a full four-year term beginning in January, 1946, will take place next November.

Former Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield, District Attorney William J. Foley, former School Committeeman Henry J. Smith, Joseph C. White, present member of the school committee, and Rep. Henry L. Shattuck, Back Bay Republicans and former treasurer of Harvard University, have been mentioned as Tobin's successor in recent days.

Curley was defeated for mayor by Tobin in 1937 and again in 1941. Two years ago he was elected to Congress from the 11th District and yesterday was re-elected to that office.

Norton served in the Boston City Council for 10 years prior to his election to the school committee several years ago. For months past, in anticipation of a Tobin gubernatorial victory, he has been quietly building his political fences. It is believed the leadership of the Republican machine in Boston will follow the tactics of the 1937 campaign and will support Mayor Tobin and will select in the closing hours of the spring mayoral campaign the Democrat who seems Curley's strongest opponent. Such support might be the deciding factor in the close fight.

Vermont Stays Strongly GOP

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 8—Vermont remained staunchly in the Republican column today with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey capturing its three electoral votes and all his party's candidates being swept into office on the basis of nearly completed returns.

With all but 18 of the state's 246 cities and towns tabulated, Gov. Dewey had a total of 60,241 votes compared to a tally of 43,173 for President Roosevelt.

U. S. Sen. George W. Aiken and Cong. Charles A. Plumley were reelected, swamping their Democratic opponents, and Lt. Gov. Mortimer R. Proctor, Republican, was assured of promotion to the gubernatorial office.

Sen. Aiken held a more than a two-to-one lead on returns from 222 cities and towns. The unofficial figures gave him a total of 63,773 votes to 31,334 for his Democratic opponent, Harry W. Witters.

Cong. Plumley had a total of 65,419 votes in 228 cities and towns, compared to 35,758 for Robert W. Ready, the Democratic candidate.

Returns from 211 cities and towns in the gubernatorial contest showed Lt. Gov. Proctor had been given 57,889 votes while Democratic Ernest H. Bailey had 28,218.

All Vote Except One In Precinct 2, Ward 14

Voters of Precinct 2 in Ward 14, Dorchester, almost had a perfect record.

Of 1268 registered voters, all but one made the trip to the polls. The tally: Roosevelt 1,200, Dewey 67.

Attleboro Chooses Cahill by One Vote

ATTLEBORO, Nov. 8—Closest decision in the Massachusetts gubernatorial fight and one of the outstanding gains recorded by Mayor Tobin came here when tabulation today showed he had been defeated by Lt. Gov. Horace T. Cahill, 4876 to 4875.

Two years ago in the race for Governor, Gov. Saltonstall polled 4365 votes to 1985 for Mayor Roger Putnam of Springfield.

Maine for Dewey By About 15,000

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 8. Traditionally Republican Maine completed the party's sweep of the state today with virtually complete unofficial returns giving Gov. Dewey a plurality double that racked up by the late Wendell Willkie in the 1940 presidential race.

On the basis of almost completed returns, his plurality in the state was expected to reach about 15,000.

Gov. Dewey captured 12 of the state's 21 cities, with Auburn, Calais and Saco, which went Democratic in 1940, shifting into the Republican column.

President Roosevelt also lost ground in several cities he carried, as compared with his 1940 vote, and the over-all vote indicated his support throughout the state had dropped sharply from his totals four years ago, when Willkie carried Maine by about 7000.

The Dewey victory gave the Republicans a clean sweep of the state, since the complete party ticket had been chosen by a huge majority in the September election.

The total vote was near the predicted 300,000 mark but under the record vote of 318,500 in 1940.

The President's best showing was in the textile city of Biddeford, which he carried by about five to one, while his margin in Lewiston, another Democratic stronghold, was slightly better than his 1940 tally.

Dewey's margin in several cities was slightly below Willkie's in 1940.

Cambridge Women Helpers Tangle Counting of Ballots

Complaining that the tallying of election totals was "all confused," Cambridge precinct wardens today appealed to Chairman Thomas Hartnett of the election commission for experienced help to straighten out the tangle.

So bewildered were some of the $12.50-a-day workers that one woman warden telephoned the commission, saying she was in Ward 9, Precinct 2, and wanted help in compiling the totals.

Informed by the commission that election sheets for that precinct were already completed, the woman said, "Maybe I'm in Precinct 4, I'll ask one of the girls."

Re-check showed the "lost" warden was in Precinct 1 and commission workers were sent to help.

Hartnett declared: "If this confusion continues, we won't get a complete tally by closing time tonight."

Warden Sam Anderson of Ward 9, Haggerty school, brought his incomplete tally sheets to the office and pleaded for help. He said his workers were tired and unable to complete the job.

Other women workers at the Lafayette sq. fire station quit so they could go home to get their children ready for school. Only one clerk was left to help the warden.

Throughout the night, women workers harassed the commission with complaints about working conditions. They claimed some of the buildings had no heat or toilet facilities.

London's Press Hails FD Victory

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP)—London's three evening newspapers all bannerlined President Roosevelt's re-election, and editorials hailed the result.

"Above all," said the London Star editorially, "he has now authority to act, without fear of electoral contradiction, in the setting up of the world security council. He can meet Mr. Churchill and Marshal Stalin again backed by a terrific vote of confidence to win the war outright—and the peace."

The Evening Standard said: "The triumvirate whom all the world regard as the supreme architects of victory face future tasks every whit as colossal and inspiring as the grim conduct of the war."

The Evening News, saying that Britain had kept its lips sealed in an attitude of elaborate impartiality during the campaign, observed:

"It would be hypocritical to pretend that President Roosevelt did not have our friendly, if unspoken wishes in the fight."

"America will hit even harder now that all her belligerency can be used for export," the News declared.

War Fund Total Now $3,620,600

Henry A. Laughlin, general chairman of the Greater United War Fund, announced today that the campaign for it now stands unofficially at $3,620,600.

Returns continually being received from the 53 communities in the metropolitan area will be tabulated for announcement at the fourth Dutch treat report luncheon tomorrow at the City Club. An overflow attendance of workers and contributors is expected.

The city's public schools continued to make a fine record in the drive, with seven more reporting over 100 tons, including the Mather and Harvard District Schools, which boasted pledges of 157 and 115 per cent of their goals respectively.

Millions Switching To Mutton Suet And Medication

"Old Reliable" For Relieving Chest Muscle Tightness-Coughing, Rheumatic Pain, Simple Bruises and Many Other Home Uses.

Grandma liked to "rub" miseries of chest colds and other simple pain. She medicated her rub but insisted it contain mutton suet. She liked the way mutton suet disappeared as it helped carry medication to nerve ends in skin to relieve pain. Today science has modernized Grandma's old-time pain relief principle to bring you Penetro, the salve that contains mutton suet plus 5 active ingredients. Mothers now thank Grandma for her old idea that created this newer relief.

In this cold season, Penetro is especially helpful in easing chest muscle tightness, chest rawness, loosening phlegm, relieving coughs. That's because Penetro melts instantly, quickly vanishes to act 3 ways (1) To relieve pain at nerve ends in skin. (2) To ease chest muscle tightness by counter-irritation. (3) To soothe irritated breath passages through inhaled aromatic vapors. Penetro is so helpful, too, in easing rheumatic and neuralgic pain, taking sting from chapped lips and nostrils, and as a soothing dressing for bruises, minor cuts. Today get clean, white, easy-to-use Penetro.

COMPARE for quality! Many are labeled "Forstmann's," all are proud pedigreed 100% wools of highest calibre!

COMPARE for fashion! Tunics, tuxedos, fitted coats, boxy coats . . . their manners are far more urbane, definitely "specialty shop," their drama obvious!

COMPARE for value! Look to the better workmanship. Look to the quantity and quality of the furs, the expensive kind of furs! You know a good thing when you see it . . . you'll say, "These coats are sensational!"

It's time to act when $67.50 buys coats like these! Every one in this whole tremendous collection was individually, critically selected by our discerning coat buyer, for its inherent quality, its outstanding beauty! These are "salon" fashions of the finest kind! This is the kind of "coat surprise" Boston women appreciate . . . and wait for at Plotkin Bros. Buy one of these coats and get maximum value for your money . . . maximum satisfaction in the years you will wear it with pride.

Election Kills 2

LAWRENCE, Nov. 8.—Two women, listening to radio election returns, today died from heart attacks caused by excitement, Lawrence police said.
Miss Nina Geyer, 57, of Daisy St., was stricken at 7:45, and her friend, Mrs. Robert Felletier, 28, collapsed when she went to a neighbor's home to get help. Both were dead when the police ambulance arrived.

Farley's Precinct

2 to 1 for Dewey
NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (INS).—The home precinct of James A. Farley, former Democratic National Committeeman and Postmaster General in the first two Roosevelt administrations, went to Gov. Dewey by almost a 2-to-1 margin.

End the War VICTORIOUSLY
Make the Peace PERMANENTLY
Bring Our Boys Home PROMPTLY

INSPIRING

THE SINCEREST good wishes of men and women of all creeds and denominations go to the Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, D. D., installed today as Archbishop of Boston.

It is refreshing and inspiring after the conflict and turmoil of the political campaign in this country to turn to the beautiful Cathedral of the Holy Cross and there to witness a solemn religious ceremony as old as Christianity itself.

Here, surely, is proof that the best things in this world are changeless; that man's belief in the omnipotence of his God and Redeemer transcends his interest in passing events and endures from age to age, from generation to generation.

Archbishop Cushing's installation is particularly noteworthy because he is universally recognized as the Missions' Bishop.

After this war there will be great need for missionary activities throughout the world and especially in the Orient.

We can be sure that the kind and sympathetic head of the Archdiocese of Boston will be a leader in the work.

TOO CRITICAL

THE Office of War Information has publicly deplored the fact that women working in war industries are absent much more frequently than men.

"Where the male worker lost, on the average, about eleven days as the result of illness or injury last year, the average woman worker lost thirteen days," the reports declare.

The OWI's attitude is much too critical. It is unfair to expect women to compete with men in factories, arsenals and shipyards.

Most of them accepted this kind of employment to help produce the weapons and equipment needed for victory.

And, with few exceptions, they have accomplished all they planned and much more.

No government agency should begrudge such a patriot an occasional day's rest. She has earned the right to relax when illness afflicts her.

TIMELY WARNING

DR. RUSSELL H. STAFFORD, pastor of Boston's famous Old South Church, is disturbed and angered by what he considers a too general contempt for marriage in the United States.

Speaking a few days ago to the Southern Regional Council in Atlanta, Ga., Dr. Stafford called "divorce a problem that came through the emancipation of women" and said:

"Marriage is a CONTRACT. What shall we say of the outlook in America if that contract which underlies the prime unit of all orderly society—the family—is held in such contempt among us?"

It is good to hear an influential voice raised against the growing evil of divorce.

The spectacle of supposedly responsible men and women parading into the courts to break their matrimonial ties is disgusting.

Equally culpable are the judges who aid and abet the destruction of the marriage contract by holding that a harsh word, frown or minor act of violence is sufficient reason for the grieved person to get a divorce and another partner.

Perhaps the newly elected members of Legislatures can be induced to rewrite the laws governing divorce so that the tendency to make a mockery of marriage will be discouraged, not only in Massachusetts, but in all other states.

The lawmaker who initiates a program of that type will earn and deserve election for life.

NO MATTER what you say, it is a good bet somebody from Brooklyn, N. Y., or California will try to top it. For example, a subscriber said he was a conductor on the "longest street car line in the world." Chicago's Western ave. line, which is 23 miles each way, writes a Californian: "The longest street car line in the world is the Los Angeles No. 5 car line; a 28-mile run each way."

BRIEFLY: The following advice to women was offered by M. Deobra: "Remember, Tantalus, a woman who gives too much gets too little. Delay, evade, postpone, promise. A clever fisherman baits his hook with denial." . . . There is a Detroit law firm named Kosinski, Kaminski, Poleski and Wojcinski. Must be difficult for telephone switchboard girls to pronounce. Wonder what is the most complicated firm name in the country for a telephone operator.

SIDE LIGHTS: A member of the Los Angeles City Council once introduced a bill calling for prohibiting of meat before 11 o'clock in the morning. The lawmaker stated that a major cause of domestic unhappiness was quarrels at the breakfast table. Most of these quarrels he said were due to the eating of meat too early in the day. . . . A widower who was happy with his first wife is the best type of man to marry. So claims a matrimonial expert. May be something to it. A man who has made one woman happy might do likewise for another. . . . "Love," said Voltaire, "is the strongest of all the passions because it attracts at the head, the heart and the body."

A SOLDIER, writing from Australia, wants to know if Grace Fields is younger than Mae West. According to the published biographies of these clever entertainers, Mae was born in Brooklyn, Aug. 17th, 1892, and Grace in Rochdale, Eng., Jan. 9th, 1898.

Am asked how many towns there are in the United States named after St. Patrick. Only one I know of St. Patrick, Mo. . . . As to how Sonja Henie's name is pronounced: "Sownya Haynee" is correct.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: A man of science states that molasses contains more iron and is therefore better for children than spinach. Guess my mother knew that.

Henry Ford

It was in 1914 that Henry Ford made his minimum wage five dollars a day and created a sensation. Before that it was $2.34 a day. People often recall how cheap things were in the "good old days" before 1914 but nearly always fail to remember that even skilled workers at that time were being paid less than $14 a week.

PLEASE NOTE: Service men prefer their wives to wear black lingerie. When making a gift of lingerie to his wife, a service man usually chooses black lingerie. So I make it continually reported. Several months ago I mentioned the rumor as to the popularity of this type of gift among service men. At that time I received many letters from service men denying the rumor. I also received a number of letters from wives saying they did not care for that type of intimate apparel.

DIVORCES, ETC.: As to marrying young, there are about 12,800 girls of 15 or under married every year in the United States. Also, each year about 310 married women of 15 become widows and 250 wives of same age are divorced. Imagine being a divorcee at the age of 15. . . . Before the war there were 11 horse race tracks in Japan.

PASSING BY: George Graff, Business man and song writer, is in the slave business in East Stroudsburg, Pa. He wrote the lyrics for "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "Fill the Sands of the Desert With Love." The music of both these songs was written by Ernest R. Ball. Mr. Graff has always classed the themes of popular love songs that are likely to become successful into three groups: "I got you," "I want you," and "I love you." Keep that in mind, young fellow, when you write your next song. It is something like the "boy meets girl" formula of the successful stage and film dramas.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1941, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Because few Americans understand the restrictions which President Roosevelt has placed on them without the slightest legal authority, in the matter of employment, I should like to explain what they are.

Westbrook Pegler

Not long after Pearl Harbor, Mrs. Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins came out for the conscription of civilian labor. Mrs. Roosevelt would have included women, and Hopkins wanted conscription of the savings and property of the individual as well as conscription of his person. Both spoke from the White House.

Congress refused to pass any law to such effect. One reason is that it would be unconstitutional. For another reason, it would place in the hands of a government bureau the power to break up every home in the country.

Petty local bureaucrats would be able to punish individuals who were unpopular for political or personal reasons by sending them far from home, to live in barracks or shift for themselves and compel them to stay where they were sent.

Moreover, there were strikes at the rate of more than 5000 a year which were wasting manpower to a far greater extent than Mr. Roosevelt or anyone else in the Administration would admit.

AS AN ILLUSTRATION, only a few hundred men could be called strikers in the Philadelphia transit strike but a million workers were affected because they couldn't go to and from their jobs.

For another, a strike in the ball-bearing and roller-bearing industry lay off millions of non-striking workers in the steel, coal, shipping, automotive and airplane industries.

And, finally, Congress would not draft civilians for labor and compel them to join unions in order to perform this labor.

AFTER PEARL HARBOR, Paul McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, tried several oblique approaches to conscription. His method was to drive citizens into essential occupations, still without taking an honest stand on the question of compulsory union membership.

There is still no limit on the dues and fees which unions may collect from conscripted workers nor any legal restriction on the use of such money.

Consequently, by McNutt's orders, some incalculable number of ostensibly free men have been driven into unions which do not have to let them vote or hold office and may use their money for election purposes.

LAST JULY I McNutt went all the way. After that date he presumed to exercise absolute control over all males over 17 who are not in the armed services. By this order, any male above 17 who wants to change jobs must apply to the United States Employment Service, where he is offered a choice of the available jobs, provided the "interviewer" is willing to let him change at all.

If the USES thinks he should stay where he is, there he must stay. If, however, the agency is willing to let him change he must accept the job offered. If he refuses, he can't get a "referral" which means that nobody may hire him.

Since then there have been developments and complications. In Albany, N. Y., for example, the USES advertised for men for a big job in the Aleutians, and the appeal said they must be members of the American Federation of Labor or willing to join.

In many cities, the War Manpower Commission forbids the newspapers to accept help wanted ads unless the copy is approved by the commission.

IF A MAN wants to loaf or make himself incriminate he can obtain his release by getting himself fired, but if he is a good and conscientious workman he may have to stay on the job.

In another complication, the employer must fire a man if he quits the union in a shop where the WLB has granted the union a clause guaranteeing maintenance of membership.

No matter how valuable his work may be, union membership comes first. And, even if the man quits the union before the deadline when, theoretically, he is free to resign and retain his job, he can still be trapped if the union simply throws his resignation in the basket and denies that it was ever received.

Hollywood Today

By Dorothy Manners

Substituting for Lonella O. Parsons, Who Is on Vacation

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8—M-G-M never had the slightest intention of letting a rival get a crack at Robert Montgomery and all the wishful bids fell by the wayside today when Bob was set for "They Were Expendable." It's good that one of Hollywood's real heroes comes back to the screen in a hero's role.

Make no mistake about it, Lt. Com. Montgomery was the highest type of officer and gentleman in Uncle Sam's Navy from the moment he enlisted in April, 1941, until he was recently placed on the inactive list.

Fact is, the whole lineup—star, director and cameraman on "They Were Expendable"—are in the hero group. Com. John Ford, who directs, is on the inactive list only for the making of this movie. Ditto for Lt. Com. Joseph August, who will photograph W. R. White's thrilling story of the MTB crew who took MacArthur off Bataan when he was ordered to leave.

CAN'T EVEN write it without gasping, but it comes straight that $1,000,000 is the asking price for "Anna Lucasta." That isn't Chinese yen talk, even in Hollywood. Ever since Producer John Wildberg arrived in town Friday he has been in huddles with the three most interested Hollywood producers, Mary Pickford (United Artists), Hal Wallis (Para) and Mervyn Le Roy (Warners). Le Roy is the hottest, or as hot as anybody can be where a cool million is involved. And that isn't all, kids. Philip Yordan, the author, is also in our midst and I understand he and Wild-berg want a deal whereby they will co-produce the movie with whoever buys it.

THE BROR DAHLBERGS (he is to the building industry what De Severky is to airplanes) have just bought an estate in Beverly Hills, which might indicate that the energetic Mrs. D. may turn her attention from the stage to the screen. Gilda was the only woman baker of "Winged Victory" and is now associated with Mary Pickford and Gilbert Miller angling the musical version of "Rain" under the title "Sadie Thompson." Not many people know that through her efforts, with Moss Hart, of course, over $1,000,000 was turned over to the American Red Cross from "Winged Victory."

SIDE-LINES: Lou Smith, popular former head of Columbia and Universal press departments, has joined Margaret Ettinger's publicity office. Maggie and Lou are two swell people who should go great guns together. Look for the Alice Faye-20th Century-Fox impasse to be settled any minute with everything sunshine and honey. It's just been a little matter of finding the right story for Alice, who now says she has no intention of retiring from the screen. One picture she did not want to make was "The Dolly Sisters," and that hurdle is safely passed. . . Ran into George Jessel at the Beverly Hills Hotel and he said he was draped in horseshoes. He missed that San Francisco plane that crashed, killing 24 passengers, by being too late to pick up his reservations. Even so, he was nursing an injured hand from an emergency landing in the same storm. . . The Rev. Mr. Rolf McPherson writes that no contract has been signed for a movie company to produce the life story of his mother, Aimee Semple McPherson.

ERNE PYLE has donated his famous correspondent's uniform—the patched one that covered three war zones and then wound up in the now-famous interview with King George—to Niven Busch's authors and artists bond rally for the Sixth War Loan. On Dec. 12 the authors and artists hold an auction at Hollywood Legion Stadium, and, in addition to Ernie's uniform, John Decker is turning over his portrait of W. C. Fields as Queen Victoria to go to the highest bidder. These items should bring a hatful Speaking of the Sixth War Loan, Arthur Treacher, famed movie butler, has a hot idea. He leaves on a Pacific Coast tour auctioning his services as "the perfect butler." The highest War Bond buyer gets Arthur to "bottle" in his home for an entire evening.

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: Olivia De Havilland, who caught pneumonia in the South Pacific, is being flown home around the 16th. What Livvy doesn't know is her house has been sold from under her and her mother is looking for a place where she can recuperate; must have brought nostalgic memories to Pola Negri when Juan Romero tossed that big party for her at Rudy Valentino's former home; the Milton Sperlings (he's in the Marines) are expecting their second child; Turhan Bey has snagged Maria Montez's astrologer to put him hep to the future. Maybe to find out when, and if, he will marry Lana; Charles Laughton's stand-in came to him on the set the other day and said: "I think it's safe for you to tell you I have been talking to Andy Devine about a job. You're getting too thin for me." Laughton's down to a mere 200, and the stand-in tips 265. After all, an artist has to protect his future; they're calling Mike Mazurki, the wrestler who worked in "Farewell My Lovely," a "pin-down boy"; the clothes Peggy Fears has ordered for her Clover Club engagement are out of this stratosphere; Ann Gillis' face healed completely following that auto accident without resorting to plastic surgery.

'Home My Job' Says Mrs. Tobin

By PAULINE WARREN

Massachusetts' new First Lady, Mrs. Maurice J. Tobin, is the youngest Governor's wife this state has had in many years.

A famous diving champion, she has the figure of a schoolgirl and the grace of a diva.

Mother of three children, the oldest 11, she makes them and her husband her career and leaves politics strictly out of her ken.

The election may have seemed in doubt to experts, but not to her. All day yesterday, while the polls revealed a seesaw race between her husband and Lt. Gov. Horace Cahill for the governorship, she never once assumed her husband might be defeated.

"I don't know why I felt so sure," she said at two this morning, while accompanying the new Governor on his round of newspaper offices, "but I did. It just never occurred to me he might not win."

She had been up for 24 hours but looked as fresh as the gardenia on her black and turquoise suit and hat.

At 8 she had put the children to bed as on any other night, reminding them they must be in school today, and refusing to let them get excited over the election.

"But, mother," protested 7-year old Maurice, Jr., "how will we know if Daddy is Governor?" Carol Ann, 9, gay as her name, had her mother's optimism. She also has the same effervescent personality, and is called Carol because she was born at Christmas time and Ann because it's the name of the mother of the Blessed Virgin.

Helen Louise, the eldest, 11, was named after her mother and grandmother, Mrs. David Noonan. Asked if she were frightened of her new duties as the Bay State's First Lady, Mrs. Tobin replied:

"I'll just keep on as I have been doing. I'm a born housewife and I'm happy making our home a place of peace for my husband, away from the continual pressure of politics."

"The children are growing up and they assure every moment they can live with him. In the summer they swim and fish and dive with him and they particularly adore going to football and baseball games. No one can ever take the place of their Dad on such outings."

She doesn't do as much diving now, but she still has the silver cups she won in various competitions.

No matter what time the Governor comes home (incidentally, she still calls him "the Mayor") she gets up and makes him a cup of his favorite chocolate. In the morning she makes him take an egg drink before breakfast. She is proud of the fact that his health is holding up despite the many demands made on his time and mind.

They have so little time to spare that they have made it a rule never to discuss politics, and she assumes all responsibility for the children their welfare and discipline.

Each child is paid to perform certain small tasks every week, but they are made to budget this into bus fares for church, scout meetings, war stamps and other incidentals.

Their most dearly prized ex-

COWBOY AND THE LADY—George Moreland, 7, of Boston, a patient at the Boston City Hospital, wearing his cowboy hat and twirling a rope, is thrilled by a visit from Mitti Lucas, Rodeo girl who appears at the Boston Garden this week, when the troupe entertained the children's ward at the hospital.

travagance is an occasional ice cream cone when they have money left over. Both the Governor and Mrs. Tobin are firm believers that children are never too young to learn responsibility and the value of money earned by one's own efforts.

The children scheme for days to get their dad away, where there are no telephones, so they can have him all to themselves.

Carol and Maurice, Jr., attend the Joseph P. Manning School in Jamaica Plain and Helen goes to the Academy of the Assumption in Wellesley.

Mrs. Tobin still finds time for an occasional game of golf with her husband and she likes to work whenever she can for the Proprietary Club because the name means "For the Little Ones."

Gov.-Elect Tobin likes to read, and when they can, he reads to her some story or article which caught his fancy.

Her guess as to what kind of governor he'll make?

This is what she said, and her voice had the fervency of an undergraduate delivering a valedictory:

"If he makes as good a governor as he has a husband and father he will be the finest in the world!"

State

of 631,708 to 459,460, for State treasurer.

In the race for auditor, the same John J. Buckley who came out of nowhere to win the post originally, was topping the Republican Frank A. Goodwin, former registrar of motor vehicles, by 594,388 to 500,752.

Various factors contributed to the delay in tabulating the ballots.

In many precincts, the soldier ballots delayed tabulations for more than an hour, since they were not put through the ballot boxes until after the polls were closed.

Inexperienced counters, many of them working for the first time on an election, and a presidential election at that, added to the delay.

The lengthy ballot, including six referendum questions, also contributed to the slowness of workers in completing the returns.

Latest figures in the presidential battle gave President Roosevelt a plurality of better than 80,000 with 1628 of the state's 1852 precincts counted, including 393 of the 395 in Boston.

Observers on that basis predicted he would emerge from the state contest with a plurality well over 100,000 and might reach the 136,000 plurality he racked up against Wendell Wilkie in 1940. As did Wilkie in 1940, Gov. Dewey ran well ahead of the President outside Boston, although the latter cut sharply into his expected rural strength and this, with his carrying of the capital city, assured him early of taking the state when all the poll-makers had listed as doubtful.

Mayor Tobin had a closer tussle with Lt. Gov. Horace T. Cahill in the early stages of the gubernatorial contest but by 1:30 a. m. was able to claim victory—a claim which Cahill conceded a few hours later as the incoming return continued to add to the Tobin margin.

Tobin's big edge came outside the city where he ran even better than Cahill although the latter had been expected to pile up a huge lead preparatory to coming against Tobin's Boston strength. Gov. Saltonstall was running better than 200,000 votes ahead of Mayor Corcoran and was acknowledged to be an easy winner.

Republicans as a whole romped into lengthy early leads but, with the exception of the Governor and Secretary Cook, began to find their leads being whittled down relentlessly during the early morning hours as the huge Boston Democratic vote came to the aid of the party's candidates.

The Boston vote enabled former Lt. Gov. Francis E. Kelly to wage an uphill battle and come to close grips with Executive Council Clarence E. Barnes after the latter had piled up an apparently insurmountable lead in the contest for attorney general.

An amazing feature of the election was the surprising display of strength by both the President and Mayor Tobin in the state's rural sectors and in the smaller cities which normally go Republican by wide margins.

Both lost some ground in Boston but the manner in which rural voters rallied to their causes enabled them to carry through to victory despite the lower vote in Boston.

The President was cut sharply in South Boston, Roxbury, and some parts of Dorchester but in Wards 12 and 14 of the latter sector he was given overwhelming support to offset this.

Mayor Tobin also suffered some cutting in normally Democratic wards but his tremendous showing throughout the state enabled him to survive this.

GOP Retains Rule of Council

Republicans are virtually certain to retain their majority in the executive council for another two years although the 8 to 1 GOP preponderance has been cut, returns indicated today.

Victor A. Friend of Melrose, Republican, was an easy winner in the contest for the seat of Theodore P. Hollis, now serving with AMG overseas.

Clayton L. Havey, Republican, was leading and assured of victory in the second district over Samuel Thorne, Boston Democrat, counsel for Boston firemen and policemen in their fight for pay raises. Councilor Frank Brooks, Concord Republican, was unopposed for re-election in the third district.

One of the liveliest contests was in the first district, where a nip-and-tuck fight was being waged by Joseph P. Clark, Jr., Fall River Democrat, and Roger Keith of Brockton, Republican.

Another Republican victory came in the seventh district, where Michael J. O'Hara of Worcester took a commanding lead over James J. Marshall, also of Worcester. Republican James S. Bulkley of Springfield appeared sure of re-election over his Democratic opponent, James H. Buckley, also of Springfield.

Unopposed in the Fourth District was John J. Swettelle of Boston, Democrat, while the fight in the Fifth District was still undecided, with Robert O'Sullivan of Lawrence, Democrat, and Washington Cook of Haverhill, Republican, closely locked in first returns.

The other post on the executive council goes to the winner of the battle for lieutenant-governor.

Broadway

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Tommy Dorsey's (Pat Dane) have their intimates wondering . . . Jimmy Durante is ailing, and the doctors want him to ease up on his work . . . The gossip says Constance Bennett's new heart interest is an Army colonel. They met in the days when she was married to Gilbert Roland . . . Sgt. Joe DiMaggio is now a gag writer, contributes to Abbott and Costello . . . Bobby Breen was "mobbed," a la Sinatra, by a contingent of WAC's at Fort Hamilton. Came out of it with a banged up nose and shattered nerves . . . Victor Moore, whose next musical may be his final fling on Broadway, is writing his memoirs. The title: "Of Me I Sing" . . . Lee Shubert is concerned over Commissioner Moses' reaction if "Trio"—the shocker—is permitted to open at the Cop.

JOHN WILDBERG confides he was offered $1,000,000 for all right to "Anna Lucasta," the play on which he expected to lose money . . . Ermine Randolph, singing, tenorist, lead of Mexican Havoc, is in the hospital . . . The Bob Hattas delinquent will force Hiss's respect a Courtier model to be his next bride . . . Palm Beach of U.S. Senator, who is already being investigated by the AUSA in Chicago, is in Merle Oberon's will to be next to St. Albin's in his return from London . . . Chad Chad Johnson's new job at the Copa has netted her three proposals so far . . . (And never mind how many propositions!) . . . The real story of the feud between two of the Ink Spots is better than any of the published tales concerning their battle with the outfit's manager . . . Desi Arnaz isn't hiding his torch for Lucille Ball.

THE STAFF of a N. Y. hospital refers to one of its floors—where usually alcoholics repair to take the "cure"—as "The Lost Week-End" . . . Gloria Anderson and George Hill have parted after all these seasons. Since coming East to work for John Bluebird, Hill has been in Club tonight to marry Sid Diller on Palm Beach . . . The thing has hit Hollywood with a vengeance. Victims are Lee Talbath, Bankhead, Jack H. Ross, Michael Orlin, and Charles Coleman . . . The Joe Charles, the the ad badge, two of the Marnes are expected to be second in January . . . There's a move on to put the New Amsterdam Theater in the legitimate fold, where it used to be, into the Hollywood . . . Cleo Black's taxi with a Roosevelt rooster is the talk of the Stork Club . . . George Price is recovering from three operations.

BERT LAHR will present his wife with a heart-shaped diamond pin "for distinguished service" on the opening night of "The Seven Lively Arts" . . . The Lana Turner-Steve Crane divorce will be final within the next few days. Hollywood can't wait to see if she'll marry Turhan Bey . . . Doctors have okayed Jimmy Newell's return to the east of "Run" . . . He missed several performances when he was stricken in Philly . . . Gubby has been taking in all the shows since she arrived in Gotham . . . Still spits that slouch hat, spectacles, etc. . . Jack Topping and Landa Gary Lynn are a duet.

Boston After Dark

THE BUMPTIOUS AND IRRITATING Orson Welles will now cease to be the scourge that radio listeners have encountered—briefly—with every turn of their dial . . . Even the New Deal should have accepted his help fearedly . . . When the President was under no obligation to the grotesque fat-boy from Hollywood, Welles was the chief collaborator with Charles Chaplin in the premature "crusade" to open a "Second Front" . . . He headed a so-called "Artists Committee" in 1942, an embarrassing movement which got its quietus only under the mass ridicule of the American press . . . But Welles and other irritants of the late campaign should be forgotten as quickly as possible . . . Let's get the war won.

PETER DE ROSE, who wrote "Deep Purple," has put music to the poem of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., "God of Battles" . . . In a first recording of the opus, Mrs. Patton, the general's wife, gave an introduction, and the platter is being shipped to old "Blood and Guts" as a Christmas greeting.

ELECTION NIGHT was disappointing from the standpoint of business in the nightclubs . . . This was not unexpected . . . Customers have hunted their homes' friends in recent years, getting election returns . . . Most of the Boston nightspots made periodic announcements of the election trend.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Elmer Ward, the Dorchester boy who became an important figure in textiles and clothing manufacture, has gone even higher in that field . . . Elmer is now the Mr. Big of the Maine manufactory which makes a famous brand of light-weight suits . . . He and his wife, Mrs. Ward and the four Ward boys, will move to Maine, his friends believe . . . It was Mr. Ward who tried to buy the Brees a few years ago, with Burt Crosby as his partner . . . Little, Brown & Co. are issuing a reprint of "The Late Mr. Apley," and time (seven years) has dealt kindly with the John P. Marquand manuscript.

THE STIMULUS of the Marquand-Gorg S. Kaufman play built on the novel is the reason, of course for the reprint . . . But the pleasure of a second reading of the book comes from the realization that "The Late Mr. Apley" remains undated, and may live for years as an important piece of literature . . . The youngest dancing teacher in the state is 15-year-old Virginia Farrell, of Fields Corner . . . Her studio in Emory Hall had an auspicious premiere . . . Virginia is a daughter of Officer Tom Farrell of Station 2 . . .

THAT ELECTION EVE lieup of four radio networks for a full hour cost the Democratic sponsorship nearly $100,000, according to estimates made here . . . (And the "talent" was voluntary and for the most part working gratis) . . . Cross and Dunn, the smooth-working singing duo of which Henry Levine (Dean of the West End is half the partnership, opens at the Mayfair tonight . . . Happy Felton remains at the Fox and Hounds' Rumba Casino until Nov. 22 . . . There is an active and growing Boston black market in cigarettes.

Star Shine

By Sidney Sholsky

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8.—People walking along the boulevard have been stopped by strangers who say: "I just got a pack of cigarettes in that store over there. If you have I think you can give me a pack." Everyone tries to help others get cigarettes . . . Flight Officer Jackie Coogan is now stationed at George Field, Lawrenceville, Ill., training "older pilots."

Those "command performance" shows which are broadcast to the soldiers overseas enlist the best talent and have the best material of any show. The July Garland, Linn Crosby, Judy Garland, Jimmy Durante show was supposed to be a "one of the best" of the year and a wonderful thing happened to me. I got a room. Of course now I've got to be a gentleman. "Why?" asked Crosby, Jimmy replied: "That's what I say on the door of my room." There is a cute dog wandering about Beverly Hills with this sign: "Please Keep My Friend Fido in the White House."

ALICE FAYE, now that Twentieth Century-Fox has purchased the best seller, "Forever Amber," is after the studio to let her play the colorful role of the wanton. Miss Faye says she'll do anything for this part . . . Columbia previewed the Irene Dunne-Charles Boyer picture, "Together Again," and it's a bummer of a comedy, for it's got laughs, laughs, laughs! . . . Y. Frank Freeman at Paramount is very proud of his dog, a boxer, and even takes him into the projection room. Ed Gardner, now making "Duffy's Tavern," says: "Freeman looked at the rushes and liked me so much that he's going to make me an honorary dog."

READING OF WEEK: "Try and Stop Me," a collection of anecdotes and stories by Bennett Cerf, can be described as a book of a book. Cerf may attribute some of the gags to the wrong people and he may fail to credit some people, but all the gags are there. When Gloria Swanson's mama heard that she had married a titled gent in Paris, she hastily phoned her lawyer. "What's a marriage?" she demanded. "It's one of those things," he explained, "that you hang in front of a theater to keep away all the customers." "My goodness!" cried the good lady, "Gloria married one of them this afternoon."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Nothing having happened in the capital, I am going to tell you the soul-stirring end of the impudent Mr. Healy.

I would have written a piece on the election, but I couldn't find out anything. The affair, apparently, was conducted in secrecy. The nearest I could figure was that they were electing a President of the United States Corrupted Box Co. anyway the name had "United States" in it.

Without realizing it at the time, I almost had some information in my grasp. I met a fellow who said I was on his way to the polls. But I thought he meant he was off to join the Polish army, so—for security reasons—I didn't ask him any questions.

I did hear some people cheering for Roosevelt, so I guess he must have been one of the contestants. I have always been one of his greatest admirers ever since I saw him dash up the stairs in "Arsenic and Old Lace," thinking it was San Juan Hill.

There was never anything more inspiring than the way he yelled "Charge!"

I FIGURE a man named Dewey must have been in the contest, too. But the only Dewey I ever knew was district attorney of Manhattan, and I do not think he would be letting Lucky Luciano and the other mugs scamper loose about the town just so he could run for President.

Also, I am practically certain there will be pieces about the election elsewhere in the paper. If there aren't the joke will certainly be on me, and you can laugh yourself silly.

On the other hand, you would probably never hear the dramatic saga of Mr. Healy if I didn't tell you. I think it is clear where my duty lies.

THE MR. HEALY I speak of is George W. Healy, Jr., director of domestic operations of the Office of War Information. He has been second in command to Elmer Davis since last Jan. 1. Mr. Healy is about to leave, however, to resume his old job as managing editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune. To keep the record straight, this is not the "picayune" President Roosevelt told some reporters not to be.

Anyway, a group of admirers gave him a farewell party. Mr. Healy arrived a little late and out of breath. Also, he still had his identification badge pinned to his lapel.

Mr. Healy was perplexed because everyone who looked at the badge began snickering. Then realization dawned. The badge bore only a number—2247—and underneath:

"Temporary."

MR. HEALY told me he has never had any other badge at OWI.

"They wouldn't even give me a low number," he added.

MR. HEALY said he hopes there are no new elevator operators on the job when he gets back to his paper. He made a flying trip there about a month ago to catch up on a pile of work. He got into the elevator with a bunch of printers. The operator—a new man—took Mr. Healy past his floor to let the printers off at the composing room.

"Master," he explained to Mr. Healy, "I took these men up here just because they have work to do."

I AM JUST reeking with other important items, including a release from Secretary of the Interior Ickes, which has this provocative beginning:

"Drilling holes horizontally in several directions . . . Not that I think it is beyond Mr. Ickes to drill a horizontal hole in any direction he chooses, including up! I mean, because of Ickes' space I am going on to other matters. I have a piece from the OPA which states that the new method of arriving at ceiling prices for pies "follows the historical pattern of pie-making."

By George Dixon

This historical touch is definitely educational. You will all remember, of course, how Alexander the Great and Charlemagne used to price pies!

WPB DECREED that vests for double-breasted suits are still barred. I wish to say seriously that I consider this to be one of the few good things that has come out of the war. I hope we never go back to vests.

Mother, Mix Your Own Cough Syrup. It's Fine

Quick, Comforting Relief. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

This well-known medicine, mixed in your own kitchen, costs little, but it gives delightful, swift-acting relief from coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare—it's so easy a child could do it. It saves real money. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and 1 cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then add 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time and children love its taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, you'll say it is truly wonderful. It has a remarkable action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Cranberry Delicacies

By MARTHA LEE

WHEN THE FOOD BUDGET demands wise use of this season's precious cranberry crop, the homemaker calls on her supply of thrifty enriched flour. Festive cranberry treats can be more than mere fond memories when the homemaker combines cranberries with tender coffee cakes, plump muffins, golden brown rolls, and elegant puddings. Enriched flour is the answer to her cooking problems.

Tempting ways of introducing cranberries this season are cranberry muffins, cranberry-apricot coffee cake, cranberry-filled scones, and cranberry meringue pudding.

CRANBERRY MUFFINS

1 cup raw chopped cranberries
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tsp. salt 1/2 tsp. soda
1 egg, beaten
3/4 cup sour milk or buttermilk
1/2 cup melted shortening

Combine cranberries and sugar. Sift together flour, salt, and soda. Add cranberries. Combine egg, sour milk or buttermilk, and shortening. Add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to moisten flour. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) 30 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen 2-inch muffins.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY You have a determined mind, a sound head for business. Friendly, sometimes undiscriminating enough in choice of friends. If not properly reared or educated, likely to be skeptical, materialistic. When educated, can take on most any type of work to a successful end. You are clever, magnetic, have a variety of talent. Watch your diet, get sufficient sleep. Birthdate of (Marcus Cocceus) Nerva, Roman emperor; King of Siam.

YOUR HAIR has two direct influences on the loveliness of your face... the way you dress it can enhance or detract from your contour... and, if your scalp is not kept in a healthy condition, the infection often spreads to your facial skin... causing blemishes.

Your scalp and hair are like a garden which produces fine, healthy plants. The wise gardener prepares his soil first... with great care, as you should prepare your scalp. Then, when things begin to grow, he weeds, waters and sprays to keep his plants in prime condition.

Oh, that brittle, uninteresting stuff with split ends and lifeless color that some of us grow on our heads... do you call it hair? A parched patch is often the signal that your diet needs checking, or that you are not getting sufficient exercise. Sometimes the dryness is accompanied by dandruff and scaly deposits.

Dry hair and scalp will respond to stimulation and lubrication... getting the stimulation from scalp exercises and brushing... and the lubrication from a special dry scalp lotion that lubricates it as it conditions it. So let's loosen up that scalp... and let's take time out every night before we go to bed to give the scalp a good going-over with both exercise and lotion... with special consideration for the split, dry ends.

EXERCISES WILL HELP

Put this special dry scalp lotion into your scalp every night, massaging vigorously... then grasp small portions of the hair between thumb and forefinger and give a gentle yank... pulling the hair upward and lifting the scalp with it. Not too rough, of course... just a slow, firm tug. Do it over the entire head. Then put your fingers through your hair and "rumple" your scalp between them... feel it ripple under your touch. Brush your hair, too.

Do you think this sounds like too much work? It isn't. It becomes automatic after the first few times.

For the name of this dry scalp lotion to keep hair and scalp healthy, manageable and beautiful, phone the Beauty Department, LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

SOCIAL HINT—The one who makes an introduction should supply a lead for conversation, as "Miss Green—Mr. Brown. Miss Green was my roommate at college," or "Since you are both from Portland, you may have mutual acquaintances."

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, TUESDAY—The President went yesterday on his usual pre-election day round of neighboring counties. He and Secretary Morgenthau have made this round on so many pre-election days that it has become a tradition.

They always stop at the same places, and I think the one in Beacon is the very spot where the President made his very first campaign speech when he entered politics as a young man, running in a "hopeless" district for the State Senate.

We had an early lunch and saw the cavalcade off. Later, at 5:30, I met the party for the last meeting in Poughkeepsie. I dashed from there to the train in order to spend a little time at the dinner of the New York State workers. Both the staff and volunteers were present, and we wanted to thank them on the President's behalf for their work in this arduous campaign.

I WOULD HAVE LIKED to do the same tonight when the National Democratic Committee, under Mrs. Charles Tillett, holds its party for their workers and staff, but election night I must be in Hyde Park.

Whatever happens, I feel that on the Democratic side the President has made a good fight; and in political life I have never felt that anything really mattered but the satisfaction of knowing that you stood for the things in which you believed, and had done the very best you could.

CAMPAIGNS certainly are an interesting study in human nature, and they do bring out the things which are important to different individuals. In reading through numerous letters, I have been struck by the variety of reasons which move people to write.

Sometimes it is a recollection of hard days lived through, and gratitude for a helping hand which changed the hardships into comfort.

Sometimes it is the devotion to some boy fighting in a far-away place who had written home that he likes his commander-in-chief.

Old Story—But Be Polite

It isn't always easy, but it IS always polite, to listen attentively to every story or anecdote that is being told to you, and never indicate, in any way at all, that you have heard it before. Another example of "doing the kindest thing in the kindest way." You know how it is when a person tells YOU he has heard previously the story you are telling... it's a terrible let-down to you, and mighty embarrassing to think what to say.—MRS. BEECKMAN.

Coat With Fur Capelet

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE cloth coat without any fur on it has been one of our biggest fall fashions, and now that winter is at hand, ways and means of making it warmer are getting the attention of shivering ladies.

The stole, about which I have told you a lot, is one method to warm up the cloth coat for near-zero temperatures. Newer than that is the fur capelet and the cape, which do the job even better.

The cloth coat with a fur capelet is one of the fashions introduced by Mainbocher, and it has already gotten a lot of followers. One of the new coats that has a fur capelet is sketched. This is a slim black cloth coat which is good for wear in milder weather. The short capelet is separate and can be slipped around the shoulders when it gets really cold. One is made of ocelot fur, and ties with black cloth bows of the coat material.

Oldtime Jockeys Set For Rockingham Race

By JACK CONWAY

LOU SMITH, who likes color and showmanship, will stage an innovation at Rockingham Park this afternoon when he features veteran jockeys as riders in the fourth race which is a one mile and a sixteenth affair.

The list of riders includes the names of J. J. Thorpe, Ray Metcalf, J. Garrett, L. Woodstock, J. Convey, M. Parke, W. Kohan, H. Elston, F. Freese and H. W. Fisher.

Fisher was the jockey upon Head Play in his famous race with Broker's Tip in the Kentucky Derby. Don Meade was the jockey upon a Broker's Tip and he won in one of the roughest finishes in the history of the Kentucky Derby.

LOU SMITH

"How much did it cost you when Head Play lost?" Col. Da Egan asked Fisher at Rockingham Park yesterday.

"A half million dollars," replied Fisher. "But you can back me in the Rockingham race and I shall win."

The other jockeys held similar opinions, and as a result it should be a stirring race.

I have always rated Earl Sande as the best of the old time jockeys, but he will not be up on any of the thoroughbreds who will race today.

Cowgirls to Race

WITH THE Grandpappy Special for oldtime stars of the saddle scheduled for this afternoon and the annual Cowgirls' Championship arranged for tomorrow, the fall meeting of Rockingham Park has arrived at its most enjoyable phase.

It is the policy of Lou Smith, pioneer of New England racing, to have his fun where he can find it, and he along with thousands more expects to derive enjoyment, not only from the first Grandpappy Special ever staged on a New England track but also from the renewal of the glittering cowgirl race.

These quarter ponies, bred to travel a quarter of a mile at top speed and used regularly in the great rodeo now playing at the Boston Garden, will race for a purse of $500 hung up by Lou Smith and his associates, and though no wagering will be permitted, many a mind bet will be made on the immortal Tad Lucas to come home the winner just as four years ago in the first running of the race, she scored a tremendously popular victory. The meeting of the mother and the daughter adds an extra flavor to this year's renewal of the classic and guarantees another tremendous crowd at the Rock of racing.

Beautiful Polly Mills, who won the event last year, will be back once again, this time under her maiden name of Polly Drayer. She has been drawn to ride Bill McBride's Headlight. Other starters in the six-horse field will be Bernice Dorsey on George Wilderstein's Glamour Boy, Mary Tier on Homer Pettigrew's Jessie the Great, and Marianne Estes on Fred Alvord's Son Four.

Roy Rogers, star of the show, is expected to accompany the cowgirls to Rockingham and to serve as judge at the finish.

Thompson Is Fit

HAMMERING HOWARD THOMPSON of Saugus, the first real heavyweight prospect to come out of New England in a dozen years, will be in the best fighting condition of his career Friday night when he meets Freddy Schott, of Paterson, N. J. in the first of a series of heavyweight elimination bouts presented at Mechanics Building by the Callahan A. C.

Under the present plan, Thompson and Schott will battle Friday with Lou Nova and Irish Johnny Flynn meeting the following week. Winners of these two matches will battle early in December for the right to meet Tami Mauriello or Joe Baksi soon after the first of the year.

Thompson, a 23-year-old war-walker who is willing to fight anybody or anything including a kicking mule, is confident that he will come through these eliminations and be clamoring at Joe Louis' gate for a championship match as soon as the war ends.

Fans who have been down to watch him in his workouts at Kelley & Hayes Gym, on Hanover st., agree that he has an excellent chance of doing just that.

Though he has been slightly on the overweight side in previous fights, Thompson has been priding off the excess fat, and by Friday night may be close to 198 pounds, the lowest he has weighed in the past year. "Red" Welch, the manager of Thompson, said he would like to bring Thompson in the ring at the 195-pound mark if it were possible so that Thompson would have all the possible speed.

Jack Dempsey was at his best at around that mark and Welch believes that Thompson has a future as brilliant as the great champion once he gets a few more fights under his belt.

Olympics Slay Rovers 11 to 2

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—A hard driving, well coached and resourceful Olympics hockey team, last year's Eastern Hockey League title holders, continued where they left off last spring when they plastered the much-touted New York Rovers 11 to 2 last night at the Madison Square Garden.

The Boston outfit was superb in its execution of scoring plays, the dashing speed of its forwards and the stiff and stern work of its defense. The display was a tribute to the coaching ability of Hago Harrington who trained his Pic team in Quebec City in practice company with the Boston Bruins.

Theo Hamel, the dashing Olympic center, dismayed New York fans by his scoring prowess last night. Theo not only scored three goals, but turned in four assists for the handsome and unusual total of seven points in one game.

Suggest Crown for Triple Purse Winners

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 8 (AP).—The horses themselves probably would settle for an extra peck of oats, but racing men are planning a tangible reward for winners of the coveted triple crown.

John C. Clark, director of the Thoroughbred Racing Ass'n and president of Hialeah race course, advanced the idea.

"There has long been need," he said during a visit here, "for a suitable trophy to recognize one of racing's great accomplishments, the winning of the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes by any 3-year-old.

4 More Clubs Seen For N. H. L.

By BILL GRIMES

Plans are in the making to increase the team membership of the N. H. L. — Brooklyn, Baltimore, Buffalo and Cleveland are the cities that will be invited to join up. Mervyn "Red" Dutton will have Brooklyn and Eddie Shore ("Mr. Hockey") will be in Baltimore. Incidentally, Eddie Shore recently announced that he's going to own and operate a string of hockey clubs, one in the majors, another in a minor league and a third will be an amateur club, probably in the Eastern League. And, by the way, Mr. Shore has been just as successful as a promoter as he was as a player.

As Paul Bowser will turn an army of his grunt and groan boys loose tonight at the Arena, there is no ice for the Bruins to practice on today.

However, the Bruins will be back in action tomorrow when Manager Art Ross will drive them through a two-hour session. They were over an hour late arriving from Chicago yesterday and it was one o'clock before they were on the ice at the Arena.

Manager Ross is anxious to have his team on edge for the game with the Hawks next Tuesday night at the Garden because so much is at stake. The Rossmen knocked off the Hawks Sunday night when Bill Cowley and Herb Cain went wild. Ross and his teammates are eager to put their local debut over because of the benefits the War Veterans' War Fund drive under the auspices of the American-Record and Advertiser will derive from this sports enterprise.

Gino Rozzini and Armand Gaudreault reported yesterday that Marcel Fillion failed to put in an appearance. Manager Ross stated that Fillion will hit town today.

Although they didn't scrimmage, the Rossmen had a good workout yesterday. If any local goal-tender wants to get in shape, he will be welcomed by Manager Ross with open arms. Unless there are two goalies on the ice, scrimmages do not amount to much.

During yesterday's practice, the three lines, which played together in Toronto and Chicago, were intact. Bill Cowley was flanked by Herbie Cain and Bill Jennings. Frankie Marion centered for Bill Cupolo and Kenny Smith and Art Jackson set up the plays for Norm "Bones" Calladine and Paul Glady. Rozzini and Gaudreault worked together and displayed plenty of speed.

DOTS AND DASHES

Jack Portland, the former Bruin and Les Canadiens' defenseman, is in Belgium with the Canadian Provost Guard. He should function as a Provost. His father was chief of police at Collingwood, Ont. Jimmy "Sailor" Herbert sent his regards to Fred Mooy, "Red" Smyot, Johnny Morris, Web Morse and Lt. Col. Walter A. Brown. "Turk" Broda, the Maple Leafs' ex-goal minder, who got into a jam when his "call" came up a year ago, is now overseas. Connie Smythe, who has always been easy for the sports-writers to interview and who, incidentally, was good "copy," now is even stronger for the members of the "Fourth Estate." He said that while he was in a hospital in England, after he had been seriously wounded in France, scribes came up from London and brought him smokes, books and magazines.

One of the reasons the N. H. L. has been unable to agree upon a successor to the late Frank Calder, who was president for 25 years, is that the governors have cause to suspect that all of the proposed candidates are committed to their sponsors. Pres. Mervyn "Red" Dutton never resorts to that old bromide "Off the Record." He will answer any question, which, in his opinion, is of interest to the hockey public, other than salary and strictly personal matters. George Gravel, a Montrealer, broke in as a N. H. L. referee, in the Bruins-Chicago game. He's not a "home" for he called back one goal and would not allow another which the Hawks claimed was in the Boston cage. He will make his Boston debut next Tuesday when the Bruins and Hawks meet at the Garden for the American-Record-Advertiser Disabled Veterans Fund. After the Maple Leafs beat Canadiens in Montreal last week, Referee "King" Clancy had to be escorted from the Forum. But President Dutton sent him right back for the Detroit-Canadiens game.

Zanelli to Battle Jannazzo Again

In replacing the Sal Bartolo-Willie Roache match, Promoter Rip Valenti has come through with another crowd-pleaser for Friday night, Nov. 17, when the Goodwin A. C. will send Ralph "The Ripper" Zanelli, Providence, R. I. against Izzy Jannazzo, Brooklyn, in the 10-round feature of the fight show at the Boston Garden.

It will be a rubber match for the Boston fans who have been fortunate in seeing Zanelli and Jannazzo in a pair of sizzling bouts which have caused more talk in the Hub than any other in years.

ARLINGTON WIN X-COUNTRY

American Loop Leaders Meet

Action in the American Hockey league tonight will see a clash of leaders at Hershey, where Pittsburgh Hornets at the top of the western division will face off against the Bears, tied for the lead in the East.

The Cleveland Barons will visit St. Louis, but the fans will have their eyes on Hershey to see if the red-hot Hornets can make it two in a row over the eastern leaders. In their previous meeting this year, Pittsburgh hung a 4-1 defeat on the Bears at Hershey.

Basketball Attack Rouses Kelliher

By MIKE GILLOOLY

"Abolish basketball in the Boston school ranks? Ridiculous!" exclaims Ed "Smookey" Kelliher, honorary president of the Mass. Basketball Officials Ass'n, and one of the leaders in the campaign to bring the sport back to the Boston schools after an absence of 30 years.

"It's common knowledge that basketball is the most popular sport in the country, both in attendance and participation," continues Kelliher. "It put Boston back on the sports map last winter."

Kelliher's outburst came as a result of the recommendation of the Strayer Committee that basketball should be abandoned in the intown schools until better facilities were provided. The report declared that the proper gymnasiums and showers had not been provided for the boys for a well rounded program, a statement which Kelliher refuted, claiming that there were only two gymnasiums in city schools unfit for games.

Last winter, the school committee unanimously approved of the re-introduction of basketball in all 15 Boston high schools. An appropriation of $12,025 was made for coaches' salaries, equipment, and other details. Twenty-four boys in each school were completely outfitted for two months of "informal" play.

They were to get the program formally underway this season.

With the most important game of the season coming up at Dedham Saturday, Coach Paul Sweeney of Weymouth High will be making some changes in his starting lineup. . . . Bill Stevens, sidelined with a broken arm in the Arlington game last week, will be forced out of his guard slot. . . . Ed Dalto, practicing with a cast on his wrist, may have to give way to John "Slim" Luscombe at quarterback. . . . and Capt. Joe Coveney may be shifted to fullback to make room for George Lavery at a half.

Results of the District One Athletic Committee meeting last week at the Hotel Manger as released today: Hockey helmets a must, with a minor penalty attached. . . . suspension for a game for participating in a fight. . . . limit on number of games per week, time of periods. . . . only two overtime periods of five minutes each for tie games. . . . no outside tournament play without approval of Standing Committee on Athletics.

And probably as important as the hockey rules were the plans to have Henry McCarthy act as major domo of the basketball tournament, turned over to the headmasters recently by the Tech Tourney officials. . . . the committee expects the outlaws to swing back into line now that night football is permitted again.

Boston schoolboy football resumed today at Braves field and there'll be the usual teen bill there tomorrow. . . . these will pit Dorchester against the classy South Boston eleven and Commerce against Charlestown.

Bilts Back at Tackle For Colgate Eleven

HAMILTON, N.Y., Nov. 8 (AP)—Capt. Joe Biltz is in his left tackle spot on the Colgate University football team for the first time since the opening of the season. He has been sidelined by injuries.

Paul Redfield, regular left tackle, where he is alternating with Andy Williamson, Marine hero from the South Pacific. The Red Raiders play at Holy Cross Saturday.

BARRON DECISIONS REAP
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8 (AP)—Arturo Barron, 138, of Mexico, won a six-round decision over Torpedo Reed, 138, Los Angeles, last night. Barron scored one knockdown, in the third.

Butkowski's 1772 Leads Kegler Classic

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Chet Bukowski, 30-year-old Detroit war plant machinist, fired a sensational 1772 total for eight games to take a commanding lead last night in the fourth annual Bomar Diamond Medal Individual Bowling Classic.

Bukowski's aggregate—made up of seven over-200 series—the highest total ever rolled in the tourney and gave him a 124 pin lead over Al Pasek of Cicero, Ill. The tourney concludes this week-end with 224 of the 512 entries to shoot.

Seven Hearts Ready For Riggs Handicap

PIMLICO, Md., Nov. 8 (AP)—J. G. Brown's Seven Hearts, winner of the Westchester in New York last week-end, arrived yesterday. He is eligible for the $10,000 Ritchie Handicap and the $25,000 Riggs Handicap. The fleet veteran is expected to meet Calumet Farm's Twilight Tear in one of those events.

HARFORD BY NECK

Ruth McClanaghan's Harford won the $10,000-added Governor Bowie Handicap at Pimlico yesterday by a neck over W. P. Wetherall's Lord Calvert in a four-horse blanket finish. A. La-moreaux's Momo Flag was third with Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Dare Me fourth. The four were necks apart.

Harford ran the mile and five-eighths in 2:47 and paid $5.10.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

Paschel Paces Pro Ground-Gainers

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Merchant mariner Bill Paschel is back doing business at the same old stand-on top the league's ground-gaining column.

The 23-year-old star halfback of the New York Giants, who won the 1943 rushing title by a single yard, hammered his way to 113 yards in 23 tries against Boston Sunday to snatch the ball-carrier lead from Detroit's Frankie Sinkwich with a five-game total of 467.

Sinkwich gained only 30 yards in 10 attempts against the wobbly Chicago-Pittsburgh combine and dropped to third behind Johnny Griggs of the Cardinals. The latter galloped 117 yards in 30 tries for a six-game record of 431, compared with Sinkwich's 414 total also for six games.

If history repeats, Paschel will be hard to catch from now on. The six-foot, 205-pounder demonstrated as a freshman last year that he gets tougher as the campaign progresses. He caught fire a New York's final two games against Washington in 1943, power-driving for 280 yards in 48 tries—almost a six-yard average.

Paschel finished with 572 yards, one ahead of second spot Jack Hinkle of Philadelphia for the league championship. Paschel was freshman at Georgia Tech in 1940, but entered the Army Air Force. He received a medical discharge early last year and with a wife and youngster to support passed up a return to college. Paschel now is playing on week-end leaves from his New York Merchant Marine base.

Official game statistics released today also disclose that Washington's Frank Filchock is continuing as a super passing stand-in for Sammy Baugh with 66 completions in 110 attempts for a 600 percentage.

Don Hutson, Green Bay's great end, went scoreless for the first time in 42 straight games against the Chicago Bears Sunday and had his scoring lead trimmed to five points by Leroy Zimmerman of Philadelphia who now has 45. Al Gryo of the Bears has the best ground-gaining average, 72 yards for 34 rushes, while Cecil Johnson of Brooklyn, took the punting lead with a 42.6 average on 23 boots, displacing Guard Len Younce of the Giants.
